IV. The amount of the total authorized capital stock of said corporation shall be seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($750,000), which shall be divided into seven thousand five hundred (7,500) shares of the par value of one hundred dollars ($100) each; of which authorized capital stock the amount of five hundred dollars ($500) has been subscribed and the amount of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00) has been paid.

Of said capital stock twenty-five hundred (2500) shares, amounting at par to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000), shall be preferred stock; and five thousand (5000) shares, amounting at par to five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), shall be common stock. From time to time the preferred stock and the common stock of the corporation may each or both be increased, according to law as now or hereafter enacted. And said preferred stock and said common stock as herein fixed, and any duly authorized increase of either or both, may be issued at such times and in such amounts and proportions as shall be determined by the Board of Directors, and as may be permitted by law.

From and after January 1st, 1906, the holders of the preferred stock shall be entitled to receive or to have set apart out of the surplus or net profits of the corporation, as and when declared by the Board of Directors, a dividend at the rate of, but never exceeding, seven per centum per annum, cumulative, on all such preferred stock outstanding at the time, which dividend shall be payable yearly, half-yearly or quarterly, as the Board of Directors may, from time to time, fix and determine; and, in addition thereto, in the event of the dissolution or liquidation of the corporation, the face value of the preferred stock and all accrued and unpaid dividends thereon shall be paid in full before any sum whatever shall be paid on account of the common stock, and thereafter the common stock shall be entitled to the entire assets remaining.

The preferred stock shall be subject to redemption and retirement at the option of the corporation, on the date of payment of any dividend on the preferred stock, at the face value thereof, together with all accrued and unpaid dividends thereon at the date of redemption; such redemption, however, of the principal or face value of said preferred stock, may be made in installments as and when declared by the Board of Directors upon said dividend dates, provided that no installment of less than ten per cent. (10 per cent) of the face value of the outstanding preferred stock, together with all accrued and unpaid dividends upon said installment, shall be declared and paid at any one time; and provided further, that all payments declared and made on the principal or face value of the preferred stock, whether of the entire principal, or in installments on account thereof, shall be apportioned equally among all the preferred stock outstanding at the date of each payment; and, provided further, that the dividend rate upon said preferred stock shall at all times until its final redemption remain seven per centum (7 per centum) per annum, cumulative, upon the face value of the outstanding preferred stock, after crediting the amount of installments theretofore declared and paid thereon. The face value or principal of all said preferred stock may be redeemed and retired, either entirely or in installments, as aforesaid, out of any of the assets of the corporation, as and when ordered by its Board of Directors. The right of redemption of the principal or face value of said preferred stock, or of any portion thereof, by payments in installments as above provided, shall be dependent upon a notice, mailed by the Treasurer of the corporation, by the order of the Board of Directors, to each holder of the preferred stock of the company, at his post office address as the same appears upon the books of the company, at least thirty days before the date of the proposed payment on the principal of said preferred stock, stating the time, place and amount of the said proposed payment. And upon and after the date given in such notice, all cumulative dividends, as aforesaid, upon the amount of the principal or face value of the preferred stock so called and proposed to be paid upon such date, shall cease. Each holder of preferred stock shall present his certificates of preferred stock at the time and place mentioned in said notice, so that the amount of payment on account of the principal or par value thereof, made at said date, may be endorsed thereon. If any of the preferred stock shall not be presented at the place and time named in said notice, the Treasurer of the company shall deposit a sum of money equal to the amount of payment proposed to be made, upon the principal or face value of such preferred stock, together with the amount of accrued and unpaid dividends thereon, to the credit of the owner of the preferred stock not presented, as aforesaid, as the ownership shall appear upon the books of the company, in some trust company to be designated by the Board of Directors; which deposit shall be full payment of the principal or face value of such preferred stock, and of the dividends accrued and unpaid thereon, to the amount of said deposit, and as between the company and the holder thereof.

Said deposit to the credit of any holder of said preferred stock, in said trust company, as aforesaid, shall draw no interest. Thereupon and thereafter the holder of such preferred stock not presented for payment as aforesaid, shall have no greater rights by virtue of the ownership of said stock than the holder of the preferred stock who has presented his stock for payment and had the amount thereof endorsed upon his certificate; and the holder of such preferred stock not presented for payment, as aforesaid, shall look for payment of the amount of dividend declared upon the principal or face value thereof, and of the dividends accrued and unpaid thereon, only to the sums so deposited to his credit in said trust company, and not to the corporation; but said sum so deposited shall be held by said trust company to the credit and for the payment of such preferred stock, to the amount thereof, and shall be paid by said Trust Company to the holder thereof upon presentation of the certificate evidencing said unpaid stock for the endorsement thereon of said payment; and when any stock shall be paid and redeemed in full as provided herein, said trust company shall cancel the certificate evidencing said stock and deliver the same to the company. All deposits aforesaid in said trust company shall be at the risk of the holders of the preferred stock, for whom said deposits are made, and not at the risk of the corporation.

When fifty per cent. of the principal or face value of the preferred stock shall have been paid to the holder thereof, either directly or by deposit as aforesaid, the ownership of such preferred stock shall no longer entitle the holder thereof to the right to vote at the meetings of the stockholders of the company.

No dividends shall be set apart for, or paid upon, the common stock until all of the issued and outstanding preferred stock of the company shall have been paid and redeemed in full, at its par or face value, and until all the dividends accrued and unpaid upon said preferred stock to the date of redemption shall have been paid in full, as above provided; and then and thereafter the Board of Directors may declare and pay dividends on the common stock, payable yearly, half-yearly or quarterly out of any surplus or net profits of the company.

VII. The affairs of the corporation are to be conducted by such officers as may be designated by the by-laws, and such officers are to be elected at the times and places fixed by the by-laws.

The Board of Directors shall have the power to fix the amount to be reserved as working capital; to determine the time or times for the declaration and payment of dividends; to authorize and to cause to be executed mortgages and liens upon the real and personal property of the corporation; and from time to time to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any or all of the property of the corporation, to the extent permitted by law; and to amend the by-laws of the corporation by the vote of a majority of all of the directors, at any regular or special meeting of this board.

The Board of Directors, by resolution passed by a majority of the whole board may designate three or more directors to constitute an executive committee, which committee, to the extent provided in said resolution or in the by-laws of the corporation, shall have and may exercise the power of the Board of Directors in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, and shall have power to authorize the seal of the corporation to be affixed to all papers which may require it.

The company may use and apply its surplus earnings or accumulated profits to the purchase or acquisition of property, and to the purchase or acquisition of its own capital stock from time to time, to such extent and in such manner, and upon such terms as its Board of Directors shall determine; and neither the property nor the capital stock so purchased and acquired shall be regarded as profits for the purpose of declaration or payment of dividends, unless otherwise determined by a majority of the Board of Directors.

The corporation reserves the right to amend, alter or repeal any provision contained in this certificate of incorporation, in the manner now or hereafter prescribed by statute, and all rights conferred on stockholders herein are granted subject to this reservation.

The Board of Directors from time to time, to the extent permitted by law, shall determine whether and to what extent and at what times and places and under what conditions and regulations the accounts and books of the corporation, or any of them, shall be open to the inspection of the stockholders; and no stockholder shall have any right to inspect any account or book or document of the corporation except as conferred by statute, or authorized by the by-laws of the corporation, or by the Board of Directors, or by resolution of the stockholders.

The stockholders and directors shall have power to hold their meetings, and keep the books of the company outside of the State of West Virginia, and at such place or places as may from time to time be designated.

The corporation may become seized and possessed of either real or personal property, or both, of values unlimited in amount, but a limit to the value of any class or classes so held may be fixed, and from time to time altered by the by-laws.

The amount of indebtedness or liability which the company may at any time incur is not limited, but a limit thereto may be fixed, and from time to time altered, by the by-laws.

The private property of the stockholders shall not be subject to the payment of corporate debts to any extent whatever.

A majority of such executive committee shall constitute a quorum; and it may be given all or any of the powers of the board of directors including power to cause the seal of the corporation to be affixed to all papers that may require it.

The officers, agents and committee so appointed shall hold their places during the pleasure of the board.

Any other officer or employee of the company may be removed at any time either by order of the board of directors or by any committee or superior officer upon whom such power of removal may be conferred by the by-laws or by order of the board of directors.

Capital stock—Authorized, $60,000; par value shares, $25; subscribed, $6,000; paid in, $6,000.

Of said authorized capital stock, four hundred (400) shares, of the par value of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars, shall be preferred stock, and two thousand (2,000) shares, of the par value of fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars shall be common stock.

The preferred stock shall be entitled in preference to the common stock to cumulative dividends at the rate of ten (10%) per cent. yearly, payable quarterly, half-yearly or yearly as the board of directors may determine, that is to say: dividends may be paid upon the common stock only when the preferred stock shall have received dividends at said rate from the time of issue thereof, but, whenever there shall have been paid or funds set apart for the payment of all such dividends on the preferred stock from the time of issue thereof to the beginning of the dividend period then last past, and the corporation shall have declared dividends on the preferred stock at the rate aforesaid for such last dividend period and shall have set apart funds for the payment thereof, then dividends on the common stock may be declared, payable then or thereafter, out of any surplus or net profits then remaining.

The said preferred stock shall have no right to vote in stockholders' meetings, but the right to vote shall exist exclusively in the common stock.

Upon request of the holders of a majority in interest of its issued and outstanding common stock, the corporation shall give notice in writing to the holders of all its issued and outstanding preferred stock that, on a specified date (which shall be not less than thirty, nor more than sixty, days after said notice is given), it will retire all said preferred stock, at the price of one hundred and twenty (120%) per cent. of the par value thereof, plus dividends accrued to said date, provided, however, that at the time of such request, the corporation has funds or the means to acquire funds which may be lawfully applied to such purpose. On the date specified in such notice, the corporation shall set aside funds for the payment of said price, and thereupon all the preferred stock of the corporation shall be deemed retired and cancelled, and all rights of holders thereof shall cease except the right, on surrender of certificates for the same, properly endorsed, to receive from the corporation said price therefor.

The holders of a majority in interest of the issued and outstanding common stock of the corporation may make the request herein mentioned either in person or by proxy, either in writing without a meeting or by affirmative vote at any duly called meeting.

Notice of retirement of preferred stock shall be sufficiently given if mailed by the corporation at the city of Minneapolis to the holders of record of said stock at their last known postoffice addresses.
